

BANK THEFT FOOTS UP SOME $600,000

Outsiders Said to Be Implicated with the Missing Cashier.

REPORT THAT HE IS BACK

Bank's Lawyers Say They Are Going to Sue Two Stock Exchange Houses.

The $600,000 block of bonds that were advertised on Friday as having been stolen from a strong box in the New York City office of the Russo-Chinese Bank proved yesterday to be a small part of the bank's actual loss. It was stated authoritatively that the total amount of the loss was $600,000. This statement was confirmed by Inspector Markowski, who represents that main office in St. Petersburg, and Julius Goldman, the bank's attorney.

But it appears that Erwin Wider, the cashier who has confessed that he took considerably more than $600,000 worth of securities, is not held by the bank to be responsible for the theft of the whole amount.

"You know that other persons are concerned in this besides Wider," said Mr. Markowski, and a moment later he added: "I want to make it clear that any one concerned with Wider in these thefts is entirely unconnected with the bank."

Although the inspector was not willing to amplify this remark, his statement in itself confirmed belief in the financial district that the complete investigation into the affairs of the local agency may follow at the request of men in this country who are interested in seeing whether there has been any wrongdoing on a large scale by several persons.

It was learned yesterday that such a suggestion is being formulated and that it will be addressed to the Russian Minister of Finance. His representative in this country is Gregory Wilenski, financial agent of the Imperial Russian Government, whose office is in New London, Conn. Nothing has reached him yet.

A simultaneous request will probably be sent to Edouard Noetzel, chief officer of the Russo-Chinese Bank and also head of the Bank of Paris and the Low Countries. He is in Paris, and he was one of the organizers of the Russo-Chinese Bank in 1895. It was stated yesterday by one familiar with the bank's history that a month ago it absorbed the Banque du Nord of St. Petersburg, but that the combination had not been considered a very successful step and that a reorganization seemed quite probable. Also that the conditions which permitted a theft of $600,000 would be investigated.

There was a report last night which the police said they had faith in that Wider had come back to his home. Three men from the Central Office shadowed the cashier all the evening and they were relieved at midnight by three others, who set out to spend the night on the watch.

L. B. Ginsburg, Wider's lawyer, who lives in the same house, declared with a good deal of indignation that Wider had not come back.

"He's a good many miles from here," said he. "You can trust to that."

Wider is going to take his charge, he is going to take his medicine all right. But the bank people don't play square with him and now he's going to make them hunt for him."

"What do you mean by their not playing square?" he was asked.

Well, the idea was that the search for these securities had been carried on quietly and that any action was to be withheld until fall, said Ginsburg. "Wider was going to help them look for these securities. He was going to help them look for these securities. He was going to help them look for these securities."

Wider came voluntarily and Markowski, I believe they have not kept him with us."

It was understood that Wider should have been twenty-four hours in which to return to the place where he was hiding. As a matter of fact, he was a little afraid to be absolutely frank with them and he didn't go to the place that they thought he had in mind. And it was a good thing that he didn't, because men were sent to be there when he got back. Of course they didn't find him and they haven't found him yet."

But why was Wider anxious to put off action against him until fall and why is he postponing the consequences now?" the lawyer was asked.

Well, I suspect because it's not very comfortable living in the Tombs these days," he replied with a perfectly serious expression.

Lawyer Ginsburg did not make good his announcement of Saturday night when he said that on Monday he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members. He said that he would bring the names of the stock exchange houses with which Wider was able to do business, even though there is an exchange law forbidding members to carry accounts of clerks or employees of other members.

with his client. He appeared to think yesterday that he would come out to do with that list of Stock Exchange houses with which Wider dealt.

New York, Conn., July 25.—Gregory Wilenski, financial agent of the Russo-Chinese Bank, who is sojourning with his wife and daughter in the Pequot colony, said this evening that he had nothing whatever to do with the Russo-Chinese Bank.

"I don't know anything about the bank's business and I have had no instructions from my Government in the matter," he said. "The Russo-Chinese Bank is a private institution and I have not received any word from the bank's administrator in St. Petersburg. The bank and its affairs are out of my jurisdiction."

HOMB KILLS EX-MAYOR.

Legs Shattered by Explosion While He Was Sitting Before His Door.

RIDGEWAY, N. Y., July 25.—Some one threw a dynamite bomb at A. H. Bousman, formerly Mayor of this town, last night on the lawn in front of his home. The bomb shattered both his legs and he died to-day following an operation.

Mr. Bousman told his wife near bed-time last night that before retiring he would rest a while on the lawn in front of the house and smoke a cigar. Mrs. Bousman had just entered the house when she heard a terrific explosion and turned to see her husband on the ground. The force of the explosion had ripped up the earth all around and the front of the house was torn by flying iron. The former Mayor was conscious when doctors who had been summoned arrived, but he made no effort to throw any light on his assailant. His legs were amputated early this morning and he died shortly afterward.

Detectives found several sticks of dynamite in some bushes near the house and the police have assumed the theory that Mr. Bousman's assailant was a negro. The dead man had been a police court judge and much of his work was with petty offenses of the negro race. Also a negro was killed here recently by a policeman and at that time there were threats of revenge.

The former Mayor was very popular and the Ridgeway Council offered a reward of $500 for the capture of his murderer this morning.

TRIED TO SPREAD STRIKE.

Brooklyn Sugar Workers Breed a Small Riot in Jersey City.

A gang of striking laborers from the Williamsburg plant of the American Sugar Refining Company went to Jersey City yesterday to unionize the employees at the company's big sugar house, Washington and Essex streets, and incidentally to get them to go out on strike. They bought drinks for the hangers on in the Gammontown saloons, but had comparatively little success in gaining converts to the strike idea, as the sugar house force is apparently satisfied with conditions at the plant. They managed to induce a dozen or more men to quit by threats and promises, and all but five of these changed their minds before the day was over.

Anticipating trouble the sugar house management asked for police protection and Capt. Tim Murphy of the City Hall station went to the plant with half a dozen cops. At about 5:30 o'clock the trouble makers from out of town started to get busy. Workmen going to and from the sugar house held up and everybody got mussy. Crowds from the tenement houses poured into the streets and an incipient riot was soon under way. Stones and sticks were thrown at the police and the cops charged the crowds to clear the streets. Nightsticks were used with a free hand and gradually the Brooklyn men, union sympathizers and others were driven back for two or three blocks.

Capt. Murphy figured that fully 3,000 persons were compelled by the police to move on.

Three men believed to be ringleaders of the plan to incite a strike at the sugar house were looked up as disorderly persons. They were Steve Redishinsky, 22 years old, of 39 South Second street, Brooklyn; Harry Reitz, 29 years old, of 136 Lorimer street, Brooklyn; and Michael Laskin, 42 years old, of 181 Eagle street, Greenpoint. All are laborers.

As soon as the fracas started a telephone message was sent to police headquarters that a riot was in progress and the police reserves of all the precincts were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

ONE KILLED IN STRIKE RIOTS

DYNAMITE USED TO WRECK DELAWARE AND HUDSON.

Fishplates Removed, Tracks Spread and Engines Derailed in Yards—Indiana State Troops Held Ready to Quell Further Grand Trunk Strike Disorders.

WILKESBARRE, July 25.—Serious rioting, dynamiting and train wrecking have taken place along the line of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad between this city and Carbondale, where 1,200 section hands are striking, since 6 o'clock last night.

In a riot at Carbondale one was killed and an injured. The tracks of the road under the Laurel line viaduct at York were dynamited and blown out. In the yards at Hudson, three miles from this city, fishplates were removed, spikes were drawn and the rails replaced so that they were spread two inches.

Similar mischief was done in the Carbondale yards, and as a result locomotives were derailed in each yard and more serious accidents were narrowly avoided.

Last night a number of men attacked strike breakers at Carbondale and several hundred shots were fired the police trying to protect the strikebreakers.

In the melee James Ciccone was shot through the head. He died this morning. Several arrests have been made. Among the prisoners are George D. Gentile, George Wilson, Thomas Johnson, John Marco, James Ernest and William Sullivan. All are charged with rioting.

Detained here are a number of men who were injured and carried away by friends. Early this morning the tracks at Avoca were dynamited and torn to pieces. The explosion shook the village and it took several hours to make repairs. The misplacing of the tracks at the Hudson and the Carbondale yards was also done in the night and the wires connected with the signal system in many places along the road were tampered with so that wrong signals would be given.

A troop of the State Constabulary has been distributed along the road to protect the strikebreakers and the company is also protecting the road with special officers.

TROOPS READY FOR RIOTERS.

Indiana Guardsmen Under Orders to Move Against Grand Trunk Disorders.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 25.—Brig. Gen. William J. McKee, commanding the Indiana National Guard, who was sent to South Bend Sunday night to investigate the plea of the Grand Trunk Railroad Company that State troops were needed to quell riots by strikers and strike sympathizers in the Grand Trunk yards in that city, reported to the Governor at noon today that the local authorities had the situation well in hand and that it would be unnecessary for the State to act further.

On the Governor's order Gen. McKee will remain in South Bend another day to discover exactly the situation and all but five of these changed their minds before the day was over.

Anticipating trouble the sugar house management asked for police protection and Capt. Tim Murphy of the City Hall station went to the plant with half a dozen cops. At about 5:30 o'clock the trouble makers from out of town started to get busy. Workmen going to and from the sugar house held up and everybody got mussy. Crowds from the tenement houses poured into the streets and an incipient riot was soon under way. Stones and sticks were thrown at the police and the cops charged the crowds to clear the streets. Nightsticks were used with a free hand and gradually the Brooklyn men, union sympathizers and others were driven back for two or three blocks.

Capt. Murphy figured that fully 3,000 persons were compelled by the police to move on.

Three men believed to be ringleaders of the plan to incite a strike at the sugar house were looked up as disorderly persons. They were Steve Redishinsky, 22 years old, of 39 South Second street, Brooklyn; Harry Reitz, 29 years old, of 136 Lorimer street, Brooklyn; and Michael Laskin, 42 years old, of 181 Eagle street, Greenpoint. All are laborers.

As soon as the fracas started a telephone message was sent to police headquarters that a riot was in progress and the police reserves of all the precincts were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

YONKES, July 25.—About six hundred men employed in the plant of the Federal Sugar Refinery in this city went on strike this morning for higher wages and recognition of the union. The demonstration was a peaceful one. The men were sent to the sugar house. When the police found themselves masters of the situation they entered the barrooms in the neighborhood and shooed out all the Brooklyn men they could find.

CHILE'S PRESIDENT IN PANAMA.

Senor Montt Is on His Way to Europe Via New York, Seeking Health.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. PANAMA, July 25.—President Montt of Chile, with his wife and suite, arrived here at 8:30 o'clock this morning on board the Chilean cruiser Esmeralda. Four steamers filled with well-wishers met the warship down the bay. Senor Aguirre, secretary of the Chilean Legation and Consul-General, formally received the President.

All the prescribed honors, including a salute with guns, were accorded to President Montt by the Panama authorities. He will remain on board the Esmeralda for the present. To-morrow he will visit the canal and later will proceed by special train to Colon, where he will board the steamer Tagus, sailing on Wednesday for Europe by way of New York.

Senor Montt's health is bad and he is journeying abroad in the hope of regaining it. The officials of the Republic of Panama and the Canal Zone are extending every courtesy to him. Senor Montt spent the morning ashore, accompanied by Senor Carlos, Chilean Minister to Genoa, who recently arrived here to receive President Montt.

Senor Clarke will return to Chile on board the Esmeralda to become the head of the committee in charge of the Chilean centenary celebration in September. At that time the President of Argentina will return the visit made to that country by President Montt on the occasion of the Argentine centenary.

Senor Montt came ashore at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the English tug Perito to pay an official visit. He was received at the landing by President Mendoza, the Chilean representative and members of the Cabinet. Thence the party proceeded to the Government palace.

The streets were lined by an honorary guard of police. A reception was held at the palace, which was attended by high Government officials, members of the diplomatic corps and many others. Afterward Senor Montt proceeded to the Hotel Tivoli, where President Mendoza and his Cabinet returned his visit.

PHILIPPINE FANATIC CAUGHT.

Pope Felipe Salvador Was Head of a Sect of Religious Fanatics.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. MANILA, July 25.—Pope Felipe Salvador, the last of the dangerous fanatics in Luzon, has been captured by the constabulary in a swamp at Mount Arayat. He has evaded the authorities for a decade. He was the head of the fanatical religious and insurrectionary band known as the Iglesia, worshippers of St. Iglesia and at one time he controlled 50,000 men in various provinces.

The Santa Iglesia movement was one of the many Filipino offshoots of the Spanish Christology. The followers of the belief are called by popes and Salvador had been the acknowledged head for a number of years. Salvador's band have been concerned in a number of raids and the constabulary has been after them for several years.

The Iglesia's are densely ignorant and were moved to frenzy by the fanatic preaching of Salvador and his aides.

NO POWER OVER FISHERIES.

British Attorney-General Advises Hague Tribunal on U. S. Claims.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. THE HAGUE, July 25.—The arbitration tribunal resumed the consideration to-day of the Newfoundland fisheries dispute between the United States and Great Britain.

Sir William Robinson, the English Attorney-General, took up the argument for Great Britain. Dealing with the claim made by the United States that it should be a party to all regulations in regard to the fisheries Sir William denied the right of the American Government to demand any sovereign powers over the north Atlantic fisheries.

TWO OF THE TATSURU'S LIFEBOATS PICKED UP.

Up Hope for the Rest.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. TOKYO, July 25.—Two lifeboats from the steamship Tatsuru Maru, which sank off Chindo, Corea, on Saturday night, were picked up by the Japanese coast guard. The passengers from the wrecked vessel, six lifeboats in all, were launched.

It is believed that 105 storage passengers and soldiers aboard the Tatsuru Maru have been picked up by the warships which were dispatched to the scene or have succeeded in reaching shore by the lifeboats.

MANAGER WEDS ACTRESS.

Frank Curzon, Who Produced 'The Balkan Princess,' Married to Isabel Jay.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LOS ANGELES, July 25.—Frank Curzon, the theatrical manager who collaborated with F. Lansdale in the production of "The Balkan Princess," was married to-day to Isabel Jay, an actress in the company.

CABINET CRISIS IN PERU.

General Resignation of Offices Expected.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LIMA, Peru, July 25.—Owing to various complications it is probable that the present Peruvian Cabinet will resign.

Leslie Combs, the American Minister to Peru, is believed to have had an attack of influenza.

BRITISH CRUISER FOR BLUEBELLS.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 25.—The British cruiser Seylla sailed